

Taking it easy. From Monte Negro, junior Sava Tomovic claims that American schools are a breeze for him but overall he says it's "nice and easy." "I want to take it easy for a year before my senior year and being here is really helping with that."

Veterinarian in the making. Junior Natenapa Sasruksa from Thailand says she has liked her experience so far. Sasruksa is hoping to learn and improve her English but that's not the only thing on her mind. "I want to go to ISU and become a veterinarian."

In a New

Foreign exchange students

Future ambassador?

Junior Shafaatu Aminu, originally from Nigeria, has come to the U.S. to do more than just learn the culture. "I want to be able to be a good ambassador for my country by doing projects for my country and I believe this program will help me do that."

Experience of different cultures.

Junior Salah Mazloum from Serbia says that he came here to learn about the new states and the diversity. He said he's looking forward to learning new things.

Milica Nikolic, a junior from Serbia, came to the United States and says she can't wait to go to prom. She said she heard that it's a whole bunch of fun. She also likes to help volunteer in the community.

World

come with a purpose

How are foreign exchange students beneficial for our school? "They introduce cultures and experiences that aren't usually represented," Senior Isabel Sullivan

