

What are your plans after high school?

"After high school I plan to attend Kirkwood to get my RN degree. I want to work in the healthcare field someday."

- Nathan Bishop (12)

"I plan to go to Hawkeye and transfer to Allen. I chose Hawkeye because it is affordable, and Allen is one of the best nursing schools."

• Madelyn Gray (12)

"I am going to work at a pharmacy for a year, and then I am going to go to the University of Iowa to become a pharmacist."

• Devon Gardner (12)

"After high school I am going to Kirkwood to be a surgical tech, and while I am there, I am going to get my EMT license."

• Hailey Hilby (12)

"I'm going to Upper Iowa to play football. I really liked their coaches and the team atmosphere."

• Jordan Bries (12)

"I am going to Mount Mercy for nursing. I like it because there you are not just a number; you are a person."

• Hayley Cook (12)

"I am going to Augustana and studying business finance and management because there seems like a lot of job opportunities in the business field."

• Tyler Langel (12)

"I plan to go to Capri College in Dubuque for cosmetology and massage therapy because ever since I was a little girl I have wanted to be that."

You Had to be at the Real Life Academy

Acting as a mother of three and a pathologist, Olivia Szymke (12) visits the SOS table.

"The Real Life Academy taught me that you have to focus on the necessities first, like insurance and groceries, before eating out for dinner," Szymke said.

At the Real Life Academy, Thomas Duwe (12) balances his checkbook at the bank station.

Duwe was a single man who worked as a software developer and owned a cat.

"At the very end, the bank mischecked my ending balance and gave me $50,000 on accident," Duwe said.
