

"I WOULD LIKE TO BE AN ARCHITECT. I'VE ALWAYS HAD AN INTEREST IN THAT."

MEET OWEN AANESTAD

—Interviewed by Jack Dickens

What's it like to have a lot of family members who have attended West?

It's not hard to find your own personality or be yourself, but you definitely have people that say, "Oh, you're Noah's brother" or "You're Christian's son."

What are some of your hobbies?

I play a lot of sports, like baseball and football, and I like to do photography. I grew up watching a lot of baseball.

How did you get into photography?

When I would go to all of Noah's baseball games, I would be bored. So, I started taking pictures and really liked it.

How do you get pictures of the baseball players?

I sit right behind home plate on the other side of the fence. I didn't know much about how to do it, but I've gotten better shooting through the fence.

What do you like to do in your free time?

My family has a piece of land in Keosauqua, Iowa. We go hang out, fish, and hunt for deer, goose, duck, pheasant and turkey.
