

A Perfect Date

Homecoming 2018

Coordinated by our student council and with the help of teacher volunteers, the 2018 homecoming dance brought together students from all four grades levels for a night of fun.

Students enjoyed getting dressed up, going out to eat, and taking pictures before they headed to the dance which was held in the high school gymnasium and commons on Saturday, September 15. It started at 7 and lasted until 10 pm.

The dance was held the Saturday before homecoming activities so our queen and king were not announced yet.

Since homecoming was at the time of the Hawkeye football game against Northern Iowa, they had the game streaming on a projector in the commons.

Most people who came either enjoyed dancing or just watching the game with friends.

"My favorite part was dancing, even though I didn't know a couple of the songs," said junior Nicholas Gerard.

This year students were not allowed to bring friends or dates from other schools, but some still hung out with them after.

"I had the most fun when my group all got together after the dance," said sophomore Katelyn LeFleur.

Homecoming creates great memories for all who attend and is a tradition worth continuing.

Freshman Caitlyn Williams, Teresa Pitlick, Ana Martinez, and Lilly Creller.

Seniors Spencer Karkosh, Cole Sherman, and Nazar Eltoum

Seniors Dayton McCaw and James Zierke take a break in the lunch room.

Freshman Emma Mathis, Karlee Vice, Kalie Burk, and Sarina Deitrich.

If you could dis-invent one thing what would it be?

"The stone tools that let our ancestors conquer every continent"

Junior Trace Johanson

Julianne Hanson ('20), Macayle DeVore ('19), Noah McNiel ('20), Sofia MacTaggart ('19) and Suah Kim ('19).

Patrick Pepper ('21) and Cooper Hoffman ('21)

Balam Lopez-Alarcon ('19)

Grant Buhr ('22)

Far left: Audrey Elliff ('20), Shauntina Williams ('19), and Abigail Mallicoat gather together for a moment ('20).

Left: Sophomores Cileigh Smiddy, Katie Anderson, Gabrielle VanHandel, and Emma Schmidt enjoy a group shot of the night.

Seniors Mikayla Tackaberry, Marcus Emmel, Ginny Brechtel and Avery Anderson dance in the gymnasium where the DJ was stationed playing music.

Susana Zierke ('19) and Brianne Bevans ('19)

What app do you hate, but use anyways?

"Facebook"

Junior Tug Wright

