

With high voltage, cheers that screamed Wildcat pride sparking spirit throughout the year, still echoed in empty hallways, classrooms, and gyms ... proving that though moments ended in a flash, memories lingered for years to come.

Pinkin' It Out

In a high, electrifying mode, seniors Cooper Huston and Noah Tompkins bellow out encouraging and exciting cheers as the Varsity Football Team scores another touchdown to tie the home game at 14 - 14. "Even though we lost the game, Pink Out was the most exciting theme night that Wildcat Nation declared. Everyone was still encouraging to the team. It was my first time cheering in the student section. Also, it was really cool to see the upperclassmen get rowdy and outrageous," said freshman Kalyn Haslam.
