Members from Boys JV basketball team explain how they have improved since last season

West is Best. Corion Lard '21 goes to pass the ball over the opposing team's heads. This was Lard's first time playing as a West High Falcon. "I really liked playing for West. My freshman year I played for North High School, but I liked playing for West more. The coaches are better, the team is better, which overall helps me play better," said Lard.

Found the Open Man. Diontray Whitney '21 passes the ball to Jalil Payne '21 in the West versus Central JV basketball game. West JV basketball ended up winning, thus adding to their abundance of won games. "This season was better than last season because we had more confidence and experience from last year. I learned that we always need to work together," said Whitney.

On the Rebound. The team crowds their fellow team member, Jalil Payne '21 so that they can try to obtain the rebound. Derek Erwin '21 positioned himself behind Payne and planned his next move during this well-fought game. "This was a great game because we were against our 'rival school' and we knew some of the kids on the other team. In the end, we won because we started strong and finished strong," said Erwin.
