

1. Wall Sits At the Homecoming football game, members of the varsity football team wait on the side of the stadium during the JV game. The JV boys won against West 7-2, and the varsity team won 38-30. "It felt really good. We had a lot of momentum, and we went into the Homecoming dance in style," RayShawn Jackson ('20) said. (R. Schneider)

2. Off the Ground At a volleyball game in George Marshall Gym, Morgan Barker ('22) spikes the ball. The girls beat North 3-1 in this game. "Our best game was against North. The season went pretty well. We grew as a team and became better teammates," Barker said. (S. Holtam)

This is OUR HOUSE!

With the 2019-2020 school year coming to a close, students reminisced on all of the memories they made. In a surprising turn of events, many Blue Devils felt ecstatic when the school board announced that the block schedule would be kept for the upcoming year. Students cheered on their athletes season after season, filling Central with their school spirit, while others stayed involved in clubs and made academic achievements throughout the year. Even with the extra long break from school in the spring, the year was filled with many activities and events that students would never forget. Despite our struggles and obstacles as a school and a district, and no matter where we go in life, this place was always and will always be OUR HOUSE. (J. Chavez)

5. In Your Lane Taking on the Clinton River Queens, Amanda Baldry ('23) swims the 100 breaststroke. The girls swim team beat Clinton in this meet. "There aren't many hard things about swimming, but my favorite thing is being with my teammates every day and winning with them," Baldry said. (A. Seibert)

3. Eighth Grade Parade At Eighth Grade Orientation, Kennedy Hostetler ('21), Inna Gomez ('21) and Bella Kuta ('23) work the table for Drama Club. Eighth-graders had time to meet current students and check out Central at this event. "It was very busy. It went pretty smoothly, and it was nice to see new faces," Gomez said. (S. Holtam)

4. Banding Together At the Homecoming football game, Alexander Pezley ('23), Allison Sottos ('23), Anna Thompson ('21) and Colton Bartels ('22) play percussion at half time. Many students were involved in the marching band, but each section had a special bond with each other. "The highlight of marching band was my section because when hanging out with them, you get a solid amount of camaraderie," said Thompson. (S. Holtam)
