

GAME CLUB

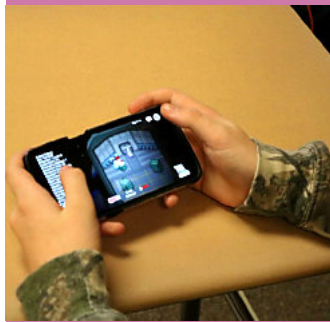

THE ULTIMATE GETAWAY

Atlantic High School's Game Club has only been around for two years but has already made an impact on the school. The club has already gained 29 members and has hosted multiple gaming tournaments that all students, members or not, can come to and enjoy. From video games to board games to card games, game club has made quite the difference within the lives of those that attend. Join now to explore this one of a kind virtual reality for yourself!

FOCUS ON THE PRIZE Members of the game club stare intently at the screen of the television. Game Club was held in the library this year due to COVID. The library was also supervisor and English teacher Randall Simpson's temporary classroom.

TRENDS IN GAMING

SOMETHING IS AMONG US-

Sophomore Robert Meyer enjoys a round of Among Us. This online multi-player game was once the most popular mobile game with over 260 million downloads worldwide. The objective of the game is to complete tasks if you are a crew mate and to "take out" the crew mates if you are the impostor.

THE PEOPLE OF GAME CLUB

The students that are a part of Game Club come from various backgrounds and have joined for many different reasons. Anyone is welcome to join and is included at any time. Game Club is held every Thursday after school. "It's really fun to hang out with all these people that share a common interest," according to leader Devlyne Sunderman. "It's just a place where you can be yourself," member Adelynn Welsh said. She also said that you don't have to worry about judgment while taking part in Game Club.

BROTHERLY BONDING

They're part-time Game Club members and full-time family! Steven Ballard and Aiden Whittle are two brothers that were known for their love for all things gaming. They focused hard as they listened for directions in the club's meeting location.

TAKING A STAND

Senior Lane Muell speaks at one of the meetings. The Game Club was making plans for the future. Their activities included tournaments, pizza feeds, and movie nights.

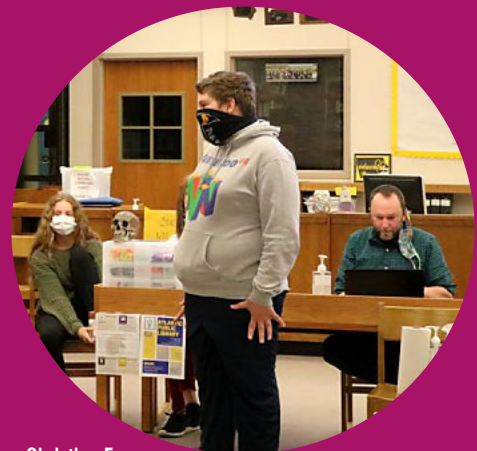

ANointing A NEW LEADER-

Senior Devlyne Sunderman passes off his role as the President of the Game Club to sophomore Alexandra Garcia. Sunderman chose Garcia to replace him after he graduated. Garcia has adapted well to becoming the Game Club leader.
