A Moment with Hallie Knutson, 11

Since middle school, Hallie Knutson has been painting beautiful landscapes.

Most of the time, Knutson finishes paintings within two to three hours, depending on the size and complexity.

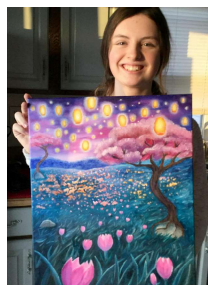

"Since I think of my own painting ideas, it usually doesn't take that long to finish," Knutson said. "It's hard to finish something quickly when you have to constantly look at a reference."

Sometimes Knutson sells her paintings, but most of the time it's really hard for her to do so.

"I have an emotional connection with my original paintings," Knutson said. "I don't understand how people can sell original pieces that they really like."

Teacher Jolene Pitzenberger-Timp looks forward to seeing what Knutson does in the future.

"I noticed that Hallie was already great at art when she first showed up freshman year," Pitzenberger-Timp said. "COVID-19 hasn't affected her inspiration or motivation to complete art at all, and her level in art just continues to grow."

It's All in the Name...

Savana Hines' name came from a strawberry farm. Her parents saw the sign at the strawberry farm and knew it was meant to be.

Alicia Nachtman's name is a mix from both of her parents' names. While her dad's name is Al, her mom's name is Marcia. Alicia is a combination of both names.

Jenna Boyd has the nickname Ninja. Her dad called her this, because as a child, she was always climbing up the walls and crawling everywhere.

Wyatt Voelker's parents chose the name Wyatt for him because they liked the movie "Tombstone" with Wyatt Earp, an Old West lawman.

Emily Prier's nickname is Em. She received it when she went to Storyland Daycare, and it has stuck with her ever since.

Myranda Weiner's name came from the law term, Miranda rights. While her mom studied law enforcement, she came across the term. She changed one of the letters to make it unique.

Brooke Belden's name means running water. In addition, it reminded her parents of Brooke Shields from "That 70's Show."

Riely Folsom received her name from her great-grandmother. It was passed down through the generations.

Kylinne Meyers was named after her mom's best friend and cousin who was killed in an accident. Her mom combined her name, Jacklyn, with his name, Kyle.

A Moment with Travis Limkemann, 11

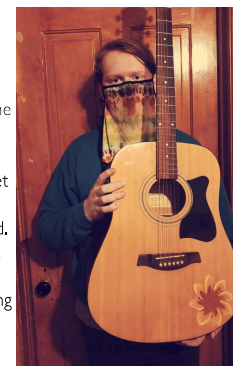

Playing guitar is a relaxing hobby for self-taught junior Travis Limkemann, first finding this passion at his uncle's campsite when he was 3 years old.

"There was a guy playing guitar when I went there for the first time, and he was really good too," Limkemann said. "I went up to him and he let me pluck a string. That was kind of when I decided I wanted to play guitar."

"I kept bugging my dad about getting a real guitar for years," Limkemann said. "He finally bought a cheap little toy guitar that I learned off of, but eventually it ended up with only two strings. I finally got a real guitar for Christmas."

Limkemann's favorite song to play is "Mad World" by Gary Jules. "I like playing this song because it's pretty easy," Limkemann said. "Also, it's one of the only songs I fully know how to play."

Words to Live by

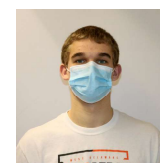

The best advice I have received is...

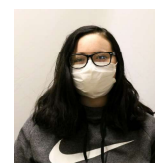

"Do the best you can do, and be the best you can be."
- Jenna Philipp (11)

"Working hard and not giving up will lead you places later on."
- Andrew Ries (11)

"The amount you put in is the amount you'll get out."
- Jaxson Woellert (11)

"Take risks. You only live once, so make it count."
- Kaylea Harry (11)

"Not everyone will show you that they appreciate what you do."
- Madelyn Hogan (11)

"You can develop a relationship with a car, that's what non-car people don't get"
- Grant Zaring (11)
