

Mugging It Up

Mugs: otherwise known as mug shots or at Liberty school pictures. This section will be a fun thing to look back at to see how much you, your classmates, and Liberty staff have changed. Of course this year is different. There weren't pictures taken at the beginning of the school year and all IDs are using last year's photos. Leading us to not knowing what exactly to do with this section. But because it's so important to document, we found a way to use last year mugs instead of no photo available.

"Something I'll never forget about this year is how I started appreciating things that I normally would take for granted. For example, when we had our first jazz band concert, it was a really exciting experience because we hadn't had one in a while. In a normal year there are some times when it feels like I have a concert every day, but after so long without any, it reminded me how much fun they can be."

"I really enjoy supporting other sports teams because it lifts them up and provides support. I also do it because I know I would want my classmates to support me to."
