

SAINTS ON THE WAY!

Kutileks

What are you most looking forward to when your baby comes?

"Just sharing the world with him/her and showering our child with love and learning."

What are you most nervous about for when your baby comes?

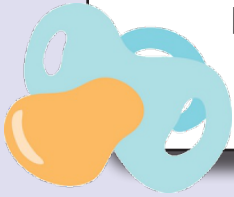

"I'm definitely nervous that everything won't be ready. I'm extremely Type A, so my husband has to tell me to stop freaking out that we don't have everything ready right now. The first few years of life are SO important for social-emotional learning, language acquisition, and expression and can really impact your personality later in life, so I don't want to mess up with any of that!"

What is your weirdest pregnancy craving? Or a food you are craving the most?

"Gummi bears are a big one for me. Sweets in general like puppy chow and ho hos/swiss rolls"

When are you due?

"March 10"

Donners

What are you most looking forward to when your baby comes?

"Snuggles, storytime, and growing and learning with a new family member!"

What are you most nervous about for when your baby comes?

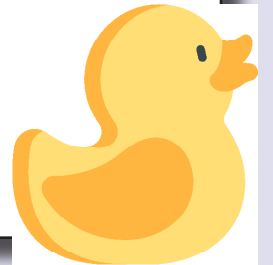

"This is my first baby - What am I not nervous about! I am nervous that the baby and my dog will become arch-rivals."

What is your weirdest pregnancy craving? Or a food you are craving the most?

"I really like sour gummy worms! And all the garlic cheesy bread. Not together though."

When are you due?

"March 1"

Mickelsons

What are you most looking forward to when your baby comes?

"All the baby snuggles, watching Garrett become a big brother, and seeing our families enjoy the babies just as much as we do."

What are you most nervous about for when your baby comes?

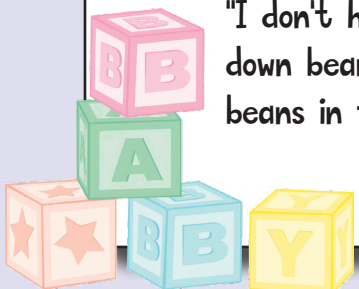

"Getting a routine that works for everyone - Zach, Garrett, the twins, myself, and our dog Gracie. We are going from 3 humans to 5 humans really quickly, but feel lucky to have such supportive families."

What is your weirdest pregnancy craving? Or a food you are craving the most?

"I don't have many cravings, but I can't turn down beans... like hummus, or burritos with beans in them, baked beans, you name it."

When are you due?

"March 2022"

Halters

What are you most looking forward to when your baby comes?

"I guess I'm just looking forward to meeting her for the first time. This is our first child so there's a lot of anticipation."

What are you most nervous about for when your baby comes?

"I've never actually changed a diaper so that's a start. In general the fact that I'll have no idea what I'm doing."

What is your weirdest pregnancy craving? Or a food you are craving the most?

From my wife: "I haven't had any off the wall pregnancy cravings. So far I've been wanting tons of blueberries and other fruit. Baby has not been a fan of sweets at all."

When are you due?

"February 17th"
