

Homecoming

2014

ABOVE | The student section throws powder in the air at the kick off of the homecoming game.

14 THE DUTCH

CORONATION: Monday morning of homecoming started off with the coronation of the Homecoming King and Queen. Students gathered in the auditorium for the event. Garret Jansen was voted Homecoming King and Cathryn Yoder was voted Queen.

JUNGLE VOLLEYBALL/ POWDERPUFF: Monday evening, boys of each grade came together to play volleyball. The juniors won the championship game against the seniors. "Dominator's gonna dominate. That night we were the greatest hockey team in the world," said junior Payson Vande Lune. After Jungle Volleyball, girls of each grade went to the stadium to play flag football. The sophomores/juniors took the title over the freshman/senior team, 28-21. "Powderpuff is my favorite part of homecoming because we won and it's so fun to be a part of," said sophomore Emma Thoreson.

CLASS COMPETITIONS: During the day on Wednesday, students participated in a variety of games put on by the high school staff. Points from all the activities were added together, and the juniors took the victory in the end.

DRESS-UP DAYS: Everyday during the homecoming week, the students participated in the dress-up days. The seniors had their own set of days while all underclassmen had their own. 'Merica Monday seemed to be the favorite amongst the underclassmen, while the seniors favored Toga Thursday.

PEP RALLY: At the end of the day Friday, the high school students and middle school students gathered at the stadium for the pep rally. This year was special, as many teachers participated in the ALS ice bucket challenge. "It wasn't as much about ALS or all the national hype around the challenge, as it was about supporting one of our friends, [Ann Visser's late husband, Joe]," said math teacher Wade Van Vark.

FOOTBALL GAME: The football team continued to be undefeated as they swept Knoxville 28-0. They were supported by a big crowd that attended to cheer them on. "It was really fun to have everything evolve around the football game. This made the players more excited, and winning was just the icing on the cake," said senior Seth Johnson.

ABOVE | The junior boys' jungle volleyball team huddle up for a pep-talk during the championship game against the seniors. "Playing with all my pals was awesome, because it's just overall a fun experience during homecoming. What made it even better was winning fair and square in the championship game against the seniors after they cheated," said junior Zach VandeWeerd.

ABOVE | Senior Annie Pfadenhauer participated in the sidewalk chalk class competition. The seniors won the competition. "It's a tradition with my friends so it was nice to end that tradition with a victory!" said Pfadenhauer.