Hiring Process

Whiteys Ice Cream

Step 1: First I had to go to the Moline Whitey's for my interview.

Step 2: Before I got interviewed, I had to take a math quiz. When you finish the quiz, you go back and get interviewed.

Step 3: When I got the job, I had to go to the Uniform Den in Moline to purchase my work uniform.

Step 4: Before I could finish training, I had to take a 300 question test and pass with a 90% or higher.

Worst Ever Day

Students talk about one of the worst days they've experienced at work

"One day at work I had a little boy tell me that he hated me and then he ran away from the playground and I had to chase him down."

Max Bigalk

"I work at Snowstar and the worst day ever was when I had to work outside grilling food when it was 10 degrees out. I smelled like nasty hot dogs."

Zane Grell

"If I work a long day, I start getting moody with customers and my co-workers and my manager ends up wanting to always talk about my attitude."

Anh Nguyen

Disgruntled Employees

Students express how they feel about their boss, an employee, or customers

"I work at the Fejervary water park over the summer and a guy came in with four little girls. One was wearing a white tank top as a swim suit which you're not allowed to wear, so we told the guy he had to change her into appropriate swim wear and he refused to. It took four cops to get him and the girls to leave because he was making a scene and arguing."

"One time I tried making a shake and the customer complained it wasn't thick enough and threw a fit in front everyone so I remade it the exact same way I did before and she thought it was better then."

"The job I used to work at, my boss was a complete jerk. I worked there for a year and people who were just getting hired were making more than I was and they were younger than me."

"We recently got a new boss and she is a lot more strict than our old boss sometimes she can have an attitude and I feel like she doesn't mean to be but she has improved her work area a lot more."
