HC Olympics Students Get Hyped for Homecoming

The Homecoming Olympics did not disappoint. In a spur of the moment decision, senior Gage Gassmann volunteered to lead the festivities in place of Principal Tim Felderman. "I wanted to participate in some way so I decided to try something different," Gassmann said. "I liked entertaining my peers and having fun with them." One new game Gassman announced was the Human Hungry Hippo. "I liked watching the Human Hungry Hippo because it was really funny and Felderman shocked us when he demonstrated how to play the game," junior Ashley Goebel said. The game especially entertained the students when a little competition occurred between the seniors and the freshmen. Bennett Cole (12) thought the fastest way to collect the balls was by swinging his partner Kristi Klein (12) back and forth. "I was not going to let an underclassman beat me in the Human Hungry Hippo challenge," Cole said. Shaun DeMoss (9) even stepped up the fight for the last ball as he latched onto Klein. "I was kind of scared when I was going after the last ball because I saw her coming and thought we were both going to collide," DeMoss said. After the seniors won the Hippo competition, the festivities ended with a popular dance. Inspired by the song "Hit the Quan," students chanted "Johnson" until Sam Johnson (11) swung deep to "Hit the Quan." "I didn't want to disappoint the fans, so I went down and did the dance," Johnson said. "I dropped it real hot and felt the floor."
