

♥ Dancing for a total of six hours, students get hyped on the dance floor. "It was fun dancing with my friends while supporting a great cause," Cassidy Oberreuter (12) said.

♥ Taylor Lake (Staff), Tristan Dittrick (9), Miriam Miller (10), and Paris Schaul (10) test each others' gaming skills in Mario Kart.

Dance Marathon

Students Join with East Buchanan to Raise Money for Children's Miracle Network

The second annual Dance Marathon was held at Seedorff Gymnasium on April 9th. Dance Marathon is a non-profit organization that raises money for The University of Iowa's Children's Hospital.

also enjoyed a performance from Sad Magic, a student band consisting of lead singer Sam Johnson (11), lead guitarist Isaac Johnson (11), drummer Brent Downs (11), and bass player Sage Sutter (12).

Students made a profit of $4,000, doubling the previous year's profit. This achievement was made in part by teaming up with East Buchanan for planning and preparation, as well as inviting area schools including Maquoketa Valley and Edgewood-Colesburg.

Student Council Advisor Abby Osborne was pleased with the outcome.

Nearly 150 students from all four schools attended to show their support and have fun with their friends. Attendees were treated to dancing, games, and activities such as human hungry hippos, a pie eating contest, and Mario Kart. Students

"We gained involvement from other schools and businesses to reach our goal," Osborne said.

All the hard work and time put into the Dance Marathon really paid off and set the bar high for the coming years.

"For next year, I am hoping we can make it more of a year-long process so we raise more money through fundraisers during the fall and winter," Annie Cassutt (11) said.

Get the Picture?

♥ Front Row: Anna Thole (11), Grace Reiss (9); Back Row: Lea Vaase (11), Annie Cassutt (11), and Emma Kehrli (11).

♥ Lauren Collier (10), Meghan Hoefler (10), and Kira Vaske (10)

♥ Mariah Kleitsch (12), Kristen Wegmann (12), and Bridget Hoffmann (12)

♥ Helping others show their spirit, Justin Grawe (9) paints junior Anna Thole's face. "I enjoyed painting people's faces because I could make them look as ridiculous as I wanted," Grawe said.

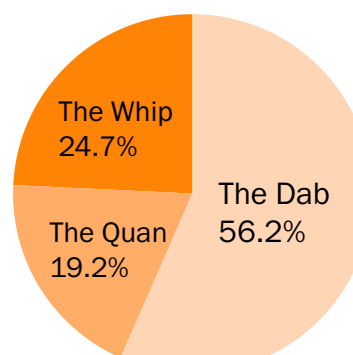

♥ Maddy Klostermann (12) and Megan Downs (12) sell tickets and glow sticks with a smile.

Dancing up a Storm

Students voted on their favorite hit dance move.

Holly McFadden (12) The Whip

Leah Phillip (10) The Dab

54 Spring by Megan Harbaugh & Maxwell Weber

"A low point (in March Madness) would be Michigan State losing in the first round. I had them in my bracket. It was frustrating."
• Kara Moorman (12)

"One of the best parts of the season was the Championship game buzzer beater."
• Brooke O'Connell (10)

"The part I hated most was when Wisconsin gave up five turnovers in their last game."
• Daniel Meissner (10)

The Maddening Games of March

Students share their opinion on the craziness of March Madness.

Spring 55