ACCEPTANCE. “At the beginning of this year, I heard of a quote from the amazing Judy Garland saying, ‘Always be a first rate version of yourself and not a second rate version of someone else.’ I really took this to heart and was able to fully accept myself the way I was as a crazy, extroverted and loud human being – which I freely and proudly admit,” Gabriella Holtzman ('16) said.

JOSTENS

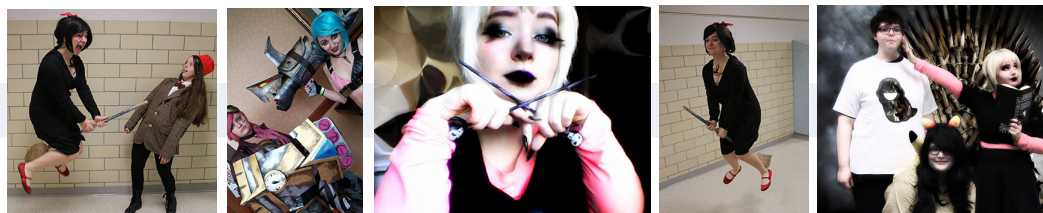

GUTTER

A Closet Full of Costumes

by Jamie Blair

With little money
but lots of creativity,
clever creations
can be yours.

In addition to Jamie Blair ('16) in the photos, Alyssa Dekotoski ('18), Sarah Weber ('15) and Kayla Wolter ('16) are featured.

Tip #1: Raid your closet. Look for basic items that could be modified, such as dresses, skirts, pants, jackets, hoodies, hats, shoes, anything. Pictured at left is my Maka Albarn cosplay. I found all these items (a collared shirt, tie, sweater, skirt) in my closet.

Tip #2: Acrylic paint is your best friend. When making props, there's not much that it can't do. I made a pair of wands, called "The Thorns of Oglogoth," for Andrew Hussie's Rose Lalonde. I made them out of chopsticks, clay and acrylic paint. I also decorated a shirt with a little skull with acrylic paint.

Tip #3: If you're running out of time, try to pick a character you most resemble. For instance, I have blonde hair and wear a lot of blue and green. I was reminded of Fionna the Human (Adventure Time). In 2014, it was already Hallow's Eve, and I had no costume, so I raided my closet, found a blue skirt and shirt, and then paid a quick visit to Wal-Mart for knee high socks and Mary-Janes. I sewed the hat myself with a pattern from the Internet and a sewing machine. I spent $6 on this costume.

Tip #4: Have a lot of reference handy. Never go out shopping without pictures of your character and his or her props. It makes it a lot easier to find things when you can remember what you're looking for. I drew a picture of Fionna from Adventure Time before shopping, and I took it to the store with me. This also comes in handy if a friend or parent volunteers to help, especially if they don't know who the character is. It also helps to make a complete list of what you need.

Tip #5: Don't go to Halloween costume stores unless it's for accessories like fangs, nails, fairy wings, swords, pointed ears, etc. Everything else they sell tends to be of poor quality (specifically clothing items), especially if it's in the low price range. I bought my wig online for my Marceline the Vampire Queen (also from Adventure Time) cosplay, and again, I raided my closet for the outfit. I made the guitar out of cardboard and acrylic paint for $20.
