DIFFERING OPINIONS. “Something I like about this school is everybody has their own opinion, regardless of what is it. My philosophy is: no opinion can be wrong. They can just be different, and that is something that this school represents,” Daphne Becker (’16) said.

Going With The Flow

Photos & story by Nathan Hoy ('15)

"The Troy Bolton"

Noah Hermansen's ('16) long flowing hair is exactly why people today are calling this new look "flow." As the years go by, more and more guys have started to try out the lucious locks. Famous celebrities like Brad Pitt, Chris Hemsworth and in Noah's case, Troy Bolton have tried out the new flow and inspired guys all around to let their hair go free.

When do you think you will go back to short hair?

"I've thought about it a couple times recently but can never get more than a trim. The only time I may change to short hair is in college."

What inspired you to grow out your hair?

"It all started when 'High School Musical 2' came out. I wanted Troy Bolton's hair."

"The Womanizer"

Connor Houlihan ('16) makes it hard for the ladies to stay away from him. Not everyone can pull off the flow as well as Houlihan. With his hip attire, charming personality and beautiful locks, keeping away the girls is one of his most challenging tasks.

What's the hardest part about having long hair?

"Beauty is hard."

What inspired you to grow out your hair?

"Soccer season. Everyone decided to start getting the flow going, so along with Conrad Nichols ('16) and Blake Love ('15), I started to grow mine out too."

"The Personal Statement"

Nathan Doyle ('16) has been pulling off the flow for quite a while now. His dark, beautiful hair gives him that unique look where everyone will know who he is. Doyle's bright, joyful personality is just complimented by the long, soothing flow he has going on.

What's the hardest part about having long hair?

"I would say washing it, taking care of it and the maintainance is probably the hardest part."

What's the best part about having long hair?

"You feel unique. It's definitely a personal statement."

What inspired you to grow out your hair?

"[Big House Youth Director] Elliot Tensen."
