

With temperatures pushing 70 degrees well into November, students took advantage and spent time outdoors. "I love seeing the leaves change and being out in the cool, fresh air," Jade Merriwether '17 said. Some students got hooked on mindless games, like the Waterbottle Flip Challenge, Pokemon GO and the Mannequin Challenge. Bailey Nock '18 filmed a mannequin challenge of the students at the State football game Nov.

11 in Cedar Falls. "Everybody chose a pose and tried not to move to make it look like they were frozen," Nock said.

one and only

PHOTO BY EMILY SHIE

GRINS & GIGGLES Visiting their future campus, seniors Abbie Cram and Sydney Shie admire the UI College of Engineering building Oct. 7. "I really like the campus and I also like how diverse it is with students coming from all around the country," Cram said.

ALL SMILES Brett Molina '17 snacks on a hot fudge sundae from Dairy Queen. RAIN OR SHINE Elle Bode '18 cheers for the Trojans amid pouring rain at the home football game against Cedar Falls on Sept. 9. "The Gold-Out game is my favorite game because the whole school comes together to support such a great cause," she said.

PHOTO BY ELLIE KOVAR

PHOTO BY KAITLYN KLOSTERMAN

PHOTO BY DIABA KEITA

PHOTO BY ELLIE KOVAR

JUST HANGIN' AROUND Zach Logsdon '17 studies in his backyard Aug. 30. "I like to relax in my hammock while I do my homework," he said. "It makes doing school work a lot more enjoyable." PLUGGED IN Mamadou Barry '18 and Safi Birindwa '17 spend sixth hour sharing videos with each other by the flag pole Aug. 29. "I watch shows on my phone when I have nothing else to do," Barry said.