MEET THE PRESIDENT

Senior Sean Rennich, student body president

FEELINGS? "I feel very proud to be able to represent our school and district."

SURPRISED? "I was very surprised that Tanner Phelps and I won; we were going against Nathan Clayberg and Jack Parisee, who also would have made great presidents."

WHY? "It's hard to say why the student body decided to choose me. My best guess is that I have been on student council since my sixth grade year, so I think my experience was far greater, giving Tanner and I the edge."

ADVICE? "My advice for students is to get involved. I have been involved in numerous sports (football, basketball and golf) and student council. Doing those extracurriculars allowed me to meet people and get friendships that would never have happened unless I had gotten involved."

How Well Do You Know Your High School?

BEST School Lunch This Year Breakfast for Lunch

(according to the lunch ladies)

freshman Sophia Steenhoek

4 WAYS to show appreciation for the lunch ladies

- ☞ Notice changes in her hair. Women like to be noticed and complimented, so when you see she got a haircut, let her know it looks good. It will put a smile on her face and will also get you some 'brownie points'.
- ☞ Recognize the beautiful features that she has and make sure she knows she is very beautiful and you appreciate her. It makes her feel good and also can maybe score you some free food.
- ☞ Be social with them when receiving food. They have dealt with a lot of students and work to put food on their plates, so they enjoy getting noticed and knowing they are appreciated.
- ☞ Bring your lunch card. It becomes a hassle for lunch ladies to remember everyone's name and to type it into the computer. By bringing your lunch card, it makes their jobs a lot easier, and they will thank you for it.
