

“The best part of after prom was the hypnotist - somehow I knew Alex Boots would take his shirt off.”

A Little Party Never Killed Nobody

Prom. Throughout the craziness and stress of buying dresses, getting hair and make-up ready and finding the perfect date, students still managed to pull off a wonderful night to remember.

“It was my first year getting my hair done at a salon. It turned out better than ever! I did my own make-up, which is always fun for me,” said senior Claire Anderson.

After getting ready, many students ate at various restaurants including Centro [Des Moines], Monarchs [Pella] and Linden House [Sully].

“The girls didn’t know where we were taking them, so it was fun to see their reactions! We had pit stops along the way to get snacks and take pictures at different places in Des Moines,” said junior Jack Meyer.

After eating enough food to satisfy hunger without a last minute change in dress or suit sizes, prom night truly began. The night was topped off with swing dancing, slow songs and “Great Gatsby” decorations.

“My favorite part of prom was the dance! I love dancing and winning the swing dance competition with Tristan [Miedema] was a plus!” said senior Theresa Lauritsen.

Following the dance, after prom offered a wide variety of activities. Between a professional hypnotist, tricycle riding with ‘drunk’ goggles and fun games to keep everyone awake, it was hours of fun.

“My favorite part of after prom was playing games and spending time with everyone I went with,” said senior Regan Nelson.

Junior Devin McCain entertains herself and others by throwing a football at after prom. "I'm not very good at football so I think I will just stick to cheerleading," said McCain.

Junior Kira Hanson throws a rubber chicken in a unique after prom game. "I'm a competitive person, but the game was still fun for me to play," said Hanson.

Senior Jacob Miedema rides a tricycle through a maize of cones at after prom. "The goggles we had to wear during the tricycle game made it super crazy and hard, but it was totally awesome," said Miedema.

"The games were fun. I found myself playing one to get easy money!" said senior Maddy Dingeman.

"I was a natural at the driving game, and I owned Colton [Bradley] at the basketball jump shot game," said junior Jamison Roozeboom.

"After prom was so fun. I tried every game, and I liked taking pictures in the photo booth," said junior Marissa Borgerding.

"I liked just being able to hang out with all of my friends!" said senior Mallory Lynch.
