

Getcha Grades in the Game

Team has to pass the class

"I get threatened by teachers when I do not meet expectations." Says sophomore Torrence Williams. A combination of excellent grades and outstanding participation in extracurricular activities helps students excel in the real world. Freshman Tyrese Bollard agrees, "Having good grades is one of the most important things to my coaches and parents otherwise they won't let me play. If i can't play, I don't know what i would do." Sophomore Elijah Gays says the team prepares for competition. "I thought being on the basketball team would be easy, but it takes a lot of hard work to do well in the game." The varsity team came a long way this year and the boys learned more than just the game.

Below: "Make the shot count even if it's a make it or break it situation." Carter Steele, '17

Above: "I like winning and the chemistry our team has." Torrance Williams, '17

Right: "You have to be competitive and confident to get the win." Ty Hughes, '17

Top Middle: "I loved being able to actually beat Bettendorf for once." Drevon Blackley, '17

Top Right: "My favorite thing is playing the sport I like." Tyrese Ballard, '17

Customer is allowed to have objects outside of the margin.

TRIM LINE

TRIM LINE

"A team doesn't just need players, a team need motivation, leadership, effort and team work."
Ryan Jones, '17

First Row, Left to Right: Coach Ward, Jacob Croeger, Xavier Calvin, Jase raegan, carter Steele, Coach Pulson,
Second Row, Left to Right: Ty Hughs, Tyrese Ballard, Zayshawn, Jacquez Vesey, Keith Picolet, Alli Burkan, Ryan Jones, Zach Bitterman, Lucas Shenddon, Austin, Smith, Drew Shaw, Trey Olarge, Drevon Blakely, Kemp Harper, Parker Voss, Brendan Don Mckenzie

First Row, Left to Right: Coach Kyle, Brandon Charles, Tevor Harsh-Ostendorp, Keaton Rommel, Eric Harris, Elijah Watson.
Second Row, Left to Right: Brandon Gillespie, Kyle Clark, Tatavion Griffith, Torrence Williams, Colton Harris, Robert Taylor.
Third Row, Left to Right: Darius Klinkner, Danta Hildebrunt, Orlando Brunt, Drew Shaw, Davarea Loggins, Elijah Gay

#ballislife

Sophomore Elijah Gay's pregame ritual is to watch basketball highlights, eating fruit snacks, and wearing his boxers with fruit loops on them.

Sophomore Colton Harris says, "I don't have a specific pregame ritual but always wear my lucky socks!"

Sophomore Davera Loggins's pregame ritual is to listen to Drunk In Love by Beyonce and eat chicken strips and fries with Fanta and pink Hi-C mixed. He also wears his lucky boxers.

161
JV Boys Basketball
"Started as a Team, Now a Family." Parker Voss, '17