

Introducing Aurasma!

Aurasma is an app that lets the yearbook editors link videos to different yearbook pages! Events such as the Interlude, band concerts, and even tractor day are featured in videos throughout the book.

Keep a look out for this symbol:

Photos with Aurasma links have Trojan Head indicators.

Making It Happen!

You made it happen, AHS. During the 2013-2014 academic year, students of Atlantic High School stayed busy and made a difference in their community. Through their hard work and persistence, the students made positive changes to the school to create a year that everyone could be proud of.

One major alteration that will affect AHS for generations was the adoption of the "Trojan" mascot for all sports teams. Rather than being seperated into Trojans and Trojanns, students and athletes are now united under one mascot.

A new event, initiated by yearbook editors, was the senior paint fight. With school approval, the class was able to hold the undertaking on a Wednesday afternoon behind the school. Students showed up in white and left looking like rainbows after dousing each other (and sometimes themselves) with tempera paint. Many stated that this was their favorite memory of the year, and it brought the class closer together.

Other changes that were started by the student body include the AHSFuel program, the Charity Chain fundraiser, and the archery and dance teams. AHSFuel was started by a handful of students to increase school spirit. They held various events to help show support for different sports teams throughout the year. Charity Chains, a new homecoming fundraiser through the Student Council, raised money for a week to be donated to Wounded Warriors. The additional sport teams gave students even more opportunities to compete and expand their talents.

Enjoy this book in your hands. As you relive the memories, we hope you experience the adventure of Making It Happen once again.
